INFORMATION PACKAGE

PURPOSE

The Virgin Islands Energy Office (VIEO) was created in 1974 by Executive Order, and operates under the Office of the Governor. The VIEO offices are located at No. 45 Estate Mars Hill, Frederiksted, St. Croix and Cyril E. King Airport, in St. Thomas.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency Rebate Program goal is to offset the higher initial costs of energy efficient and renewable energy products by way of offering the consumers of the Territory financial incentives to conserve energy.

The programs enable residents to purchase high rated energy efficient and renewable energy products to reduce our dependence on fossil fuel. The benefits to consumers and the environment are:

- Incentives and opportunity for consumers to make energy efficient and renewable energy source purchases
- Cash back payments (rebates) to consumers on eligible items
- Consumers experience energy savings.
- Track the energy savings
- Record the carbon footprint for the territory

The program will focus on energy efficiency, renewable energy, and specific products certified by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Energy Star program.

Consumer surveys and semi-annual reports from vendors, to include number of jobs created and retained, number and size of renewable energy systems purchased and installed, will assist the VIEO in tracking energy savings, and record the carbon footprint on the environment. The results of the surveys will be used to evaluate the effectiveness and public's awareness of the programs and report information mandated by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, Public law 111-5.
